Trip Highlights~

Enhance your studies at some of the greatest ancient sites in the world. We owe our western view of the world to the modern-thinking Greeks. Theatre and psychology come together in this 10-day trip to Athens and Santorini. Daily excursions take us to Delphi, the ancient center of the Earth the Naval Stone, the Parthenon, the Acropolis, the Agora, Mycene and Epidaurus, Theatre of Dionysus, Lycabettus Hill and wonderful museums. You will enjoy great food and nightlife in historic Plaka, the location of our hotel at the foot of the Acropolis and some free time in Syntagma Square in Athens, the seaport of Piraeus and the old flea market and shopping area of Monastiraki. Reading lists will be available for all travelers. Students seeking course credit will have play readings and writing assignments focused on the relationship between ancient psychology and philosophy and Greek drama.
